Mayor of London Visit

We were thrilled to receive a visit from the Mayor of London, Sadiq Khan, yesterday to talk about air pollution. He was joined by Nickie Aiken, leader of Westminster Council, and together they talked to the children about their ideas for cleaning up the air. The children were exceptional in explaining what we have already been doing and what we would like to see happen. They were even the stars of last night's BBC London News! We are very pleased that the school will now receive £20,000 from both the Mayor's fund and Westminster Council to install air filtration systems inside the school.

It was also wonderful to have the street closed for the morning—something that will be more regular from September. Children made smoothies by riding a bike, scooted and played games (which the Mayor joined in with). Today, children are wearing green as a reminder to be environmentally friendly, and will all be given a mask (designed by Emily in Y5) to use on school trips when the air quality is poor.

Well done, St Mary's! You are all leading the way in this important area, and I could not be more proud of you all.
